

Relief International

RI is a humanitarian, non-profit agency providing emergency relief, rehabilitation, and development assistance to victims of natural disasters and civil conflicts worldwide. To do so, RI works closely with the local communities it serves to ensure that its programs do not impose solutions from the outside in; but rather, addresses individual needs and requirements for long-term sustainability.

Relief International provides several ways in which you can positively make a difference in the lives of thousands of people around the world.

What Others are Saying...

The inspiring photographs of Chip Duncan will open your eyes to a world of disaster and conflict while at the same time filling your heart with a sense of peace and hope. "Images of Humanity and Hope" is a collection of Duncan's work that makes up his latest book, "Enough to Go Around."

—Petoskey News

"By telling the stories and capturing the spirit of people living through both man-made and natural disasters, Mr. Duncan does a great job of breaking down stereotypes. The people he profiles have not given up, and neither should we. Enough To Go Around challenges us to be more aware and to do more with what we have."

Duncan has received more than 100 national and international awards for his work as a writer, producer, director, and photographer. His most recent production, LANDSLIDE - The Presidency of Herbert Hoover, begins airing nationwide on public television in 2009.

Duncan serves as a board member for not-for-profit group Relief International. Recent location work includes Afghanistan (2005), Pakistan (2006) and Darfur, Sudan (2008).

Enough to Go Around

About the Book:

Finding hope in the face of international crisis isn't easy to do, but award-winning filmmaker and journalist Chip Duncan discovers just that in an engaging new account of humanitarian efforts in the world's most challenging and deadly trouble spots.

Duncan chronicles his travels to some of the most heartbreaking and desperate places on the planet. He introduces us to displaced inhabitants of refugee camps in Darfur, homeless children and widowers following a devastating earthquake in Pakistan, and the strong survivors of a generation of warfare in Afghanistan.

What Duncan finds are compelling and hopeful stories of people who defy the word victim while embracing the future.

How Can You Help?

Making This A Success for our Students:

The Duncan Group is graciously allowing us to sell Duncan's book Enough to Go Around at a wholesale price. Instead of the $34.95 list price, the book is available to our students for $23.95.

We would like as many students to have access to the book as possible, so here's how you can help.

Consider purchasing a copy of the book either for your student(s) or purchasing a copy of the book to be donated to a classroom. If you donate a copy a book plate will be placed inside the cover, noting it was a donation from you, or you may remain anonymous.

The books will be available for purchase at parent-teacher conferences, Monday, October 12th in the LMC. from 4:00-7:30 p.m.

They will remain available to purchase in the LMC on a first come, first served basis following conferences until Mr. Duncan's presentation.
